March 26, 2014

To our Shareholders:

Northumberland Bancorp continued to grow during 2013. Total assets reached $476,182,000 from $464,403,000 in 2012. Of note was an increase of 9.9% in net loans. This increase contributes to additional earnings as interest on loans outpaces interest earned on investments. This increase improved our loan to deposit ratio to 60.7% from 56.8% in 2012.

Net income for 2013 was $4,196,000, a 5.8% decrease from $4,455,000 in 2012. A number of factors impacted the results of operations in 2013. Net interest income declined slightly as the net interest margin for the year declined to 2.85% from 2.94% in the prior year. Management has taken steps to improve the interest margin and early results from 2014 indicate positive trends.

Non-interest income increased $186,000 despite a drop of $378,000 in the gain on sale of mortgages. That drop was due to a decline in volume as the level of refinancing declined significantly, while slightly higher mortgage rates along with a long hard winter may have impacted growth in customer purchase transactions. The major factors giving rise to the overall increase in non-interest income were the reversal of the valuation allowance required to state loans held for sale to market on December 31, 2012 of $305,000; earnings on bank owned life insurance of $102,000; service charges on deposit accounts of $42,000; trust earnings of $69,000; and mortgage servicing income of $66,000.

Non-interest expense increased $559,000. This increase was spread across all general expense categories, with the largest increase occurring in salaries and benefits. The increase in salaries and benefits included normal salary increases, growth in employees needed to service additional growth and a significant increase in health care costs. High among the remaining expenses were increases in bank shares tax expense of $49,000 and FDIC insurance premiums of $38,000.

Asset quality remains extremely strong. Net loan losses to average total loans were .03% compared to a national peer group average of .29%. Past due loans dropped to 1.17% from 1.25% in 2012, considerably less than peer group averages. Loans evaluated as special mention and substandard dropped from $6,182,000 in 2012 to $5,146,000 in 2013.

The company continues to be well capitalized. Tier one capital to average assets increased to 9.26% from 8.87%. Per share dividend increased 13.3% in 2013 to $.68 per share. During the year, the company purchased 1,150 shares of Northumberland Bancorp stock which have been added to treasury. Northumberland Bancorp's stock price as of the date of this letter was $33.10 compared to $32.00 which was reported in last year's annual report.

It is with extreme sadness that we note the passing of Roy H. Moyer, Jr. on June 4, 2013. He was a dedicated employee who was devoted to the bank. Roy served as Vice President and Director of the bank for many years and his contributions will be greatly missed. During 2013, we added two new directors, Michael Apfelbaum and Amanda Kessler, to the board. We look for their energy, experience and dedication to help us to continue to move Northumberland Bancorp forward.

In 2014, The Northumberland National Bank plans to relocate its office in Weis Markets at Susquehanna Valley Mall to a location in downtown Selinsgrove. We believe this move will allow us to better serve that portion of our market and at the same time attract additional customers that are more comfortable being served by a downtown location. Additionally we plan to expand our office on Lori Lane to house our commercial loan department and NNB Financial Services. This expansion will provide space to allow both of these departments to continue to grow.

We thank you, our valued shareholders, directors, officers and employees, for your contributions to the company's success during the year as we continue to pursue our mission, "To provide outstanding community banking and financial services throughout the Central Susquehanna Valley".

Sincerely,

J. Donald Steele, Jr.
Chairman and President

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these consolidated financial statements based on our audits. We conducted our audits in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the consolidated financial statements are free of material misstatement.

In making those risk assessments, the auditor considers internal control relevant to the entity's preparation and fair presentation of the consolidated financial statements in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the entity's internal control. Accordingly, we express no such opinion. NOTE 1 - SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

A summary of significant accounting and reporting policies applied in the presentation of the accompanying consolidated financial statements follows:

Nature of Operations and Basis of Presentation

Northumberland Bancorp (the “Company”) is a Pennsylvania corporation and is registered under the Bank Holding Company Act. The Company was organized as the holding company of its wholly owned subsidiary, The Northumberland National Bank (the “Bank”). The Bank is a nationally chartered commercial bank located in Northumberland, Pennsylvania. The Bank’s service area includes portions of Northumberland, Snyder, Union, and Montour counties in Pennsylvania. The Company and the Bank derive substantially all of their income from banking and bank-related services, which includes interest earnings on commercial, commercial mortgage, residential real estate, and consumer loan financing as well as interest earnings on investment securities and deposit and trust services to their customers. The Bank created a new subsidiary, NNB Financial Services, during 2012 for the purpose of selling financial and insurance products. The Company is supervised by the Federal Reserve Board, while the Bank is subject to regulation and supervision by the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency.

The consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its wholly owned subsidiary, the Bank. Intercompany activity has been eliminated in consolidation.

The consolidated financial statements have been prepared in conformity with U.S. generally accepted accounting principles and with general practice within the banking industry. In preparing the financial statements, management is required to make certain estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities as of the Consolidated Balance Sheet date and revenues and expenses for the period. Actual results could differ significantly from those estimates.

Investment Securities

Investment securities are classified at the time of purchase, based on management’s intention and ability, as securities held to maturity or securities available for sale. Debt securities acquired with the intent and ability to hold to maturity are stated at cost adjusted for amortization of premium and accretion of discount that are computed using the level yield method and recognized as adjustments of interest income. Certain other debt securities have been classified as available for sale to serve principally as a source of liquidity. Unrealized holding gains and losses for available-for-sale securities are reported as a separate component of stockholders’ equity, net of tax, until realized. Realized securities gains and losses are computed using the specific identification method. Interest and dividends on investment securities are recognized as income when earned.

Securities are periodically reviewed for other-than-temporary impairment based upon a number of factors, including, but not limited to, the length of time and extent to which the market value has been less than cost, the financial condition of the underlying issuer, the ability of the issuer to meet contractual obligations, the likelihood of the security’s ability to recover any decline in its market value, and whether or not the Company intends to sell the security or whether it’s more likely than not that the Company would be required to sell the security before its anticipated recovery in market value. A decline in value that is considered to be other than temporary is recorded as a loss within noninterest income in the Consolidated Statement of Income.

Federal Home Loan Bank Stock

The Bank is a member of the Federal Home Loan Bank (“FHLB”) of Pittsburgh and, as such, is required to maintain a minimum investment in stock of the FHLB that varies with the level of advances outstanding with the FHLB, as well as a minimum level of mortgages in MPF Program. The stock is bought from and sold to the FHLB based upon its $100 par value. The stock does not have a readily determinable fair value and as such is classified as restricted stock, carried at cost, and evaluated for impairment as necessary. The stock’s value is determined by the ultimate recoverability of the par value rather than by recognizing temporary declines. The determination of whether the par value will ultimately be recovered is influenced by criteria such as the following: (a) the significance of the decline in net assets of the FHLB as compared to the capital stock amount and the length of time this situation has persisted; (b) commitments by the FHLB to make payments required by law or regulation and the level of such payments in relation to the operating performance; (c) the impact of legislative and regulatory changes on the customer base of the FHLB; and (d) the liquidity position of the FHLB. Management evaluated the stock and concluded that the stock was not impaired for the periods presented herein.

Loans Held for Sale and Loans Serviced

Loans held for sale are carried at the lower of cost or fair value, as determined on an aggregate basis. Gains and losses on sales of loans held for sale are recognized on settlement dates and are determined by the difference between the sale proceeds and the carrying value of loans. All sales are made with limited recourse. Loans held for sale were $1,585,000 and $4,515,000 at December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively. At December 31, 2013 and 2012, the amounts of loans serviced by the Company for the benefit of others were $96,400,000 and $80,683,000, respectively.

Loans

Loans originated with the intention to hold to maturity are reported at their principal amount, net of unearned income and the allowance for loan losses. Interest income on all loans is recognized on an accrual basis. Nonrefundable loan fees and certain direct costs are deferred and amortized over the life of the loans using the interest method. The amortization is reflected as an interest yield adjustment, and the deferred portion of the net fees and costs is reflected as part of the loan balance. Accrual of interest is discontinued when, in the opinion of management, reasonable doubt exists as to the collectibility of additional interest. Loans are returned to accrual status when past-due interest is collected and the collection of principal is probable.

Allowance for Loan Losses

The allowance for loan losses represents the amount which management estimates is adequate to provide for probable losses inherent in its loan portfolio. The allowance method is used in providing for loan losses. Accordingly, all loan losses are charged to the allowance, and all recoveries are credited to it. The allowance for loan losses is established through a provision for loan losses charged to operations. The provision for loan losses is based on management's periodic evaluation of individual loans, economic factors, past loan loss experience, changes in the composition and volume of the portfolio, and other relevant factors. The estimates used in determining the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses, including the amounts and timing of future cash flows expected on impaired loans, are particularly susceptible to changes in the near term.

Impaired loans are commercial and commercial real estate loans for which it is probable the Company will not be able to collect all amounts due according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. The Company individually evaluates such loans for impairment and does not aggregate loans by major risk classifications. The definition of "impaired loans" is not the same as the definition of "nonaccrual loans," although the two categories overlap. The Company may choose to place a loan on nonaccrual status due to payment delinquency or uncertain collectibility, while not classifying the loan as impaired if the loan is not a commercial or commercial real estate loan. Factors considered by management in determining impairment include payment status and collateral value. The amount of impairment for these types of impaired loans is determined by the difference between the present value of the expected cash flows related to the loan, using the original interest rate, and its recorded value, or as a practical expedient in the case of collateralized loans, the difference between the fair value of the collateral and the recorded amount of the loans. When foreclosure is probable, impairment is measured based on the fair value of the collateral.

Mortgage loans on one-to-four family properties and all consumer loans are large groups of smaller-balance homogeneous loans and are measured for impairment collectively. Loans that experience insignificant payment delays, which are defined as 90 days or less, generally are not classified as impaired. Management determines the significance of payment delays on a case-by-case basis taking into consideration all circumstances surrounding the loan and the borrower including the length of the delay, the borrower's prior payment record, and the amount of shortfall in relation to the principal and interest owed.

Premises and Equipment

Land is carried at cost. Premises and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Depreciation is computed on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets, which range from 3 to 20 years for furniture, fixtures, and equipment and 15 to 50 years for buildings and leasehold improvements. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged against income as incurred. Costs of major additions and improvements are capitalized.

Mortgage Servicing Rights ("MSRs")

The Company has agreements for the express purpose of selling loans in the secondary market. The Company maintains servicing rights for certain loans. Originated MSRs are recorded by allocating total costs incurred between the loan and servicing rights based on their relative fair values. MSRs are amortized in proportion to the estimated servicing income over the estimated life of the servicing portfolio. Annually, the Company performs an impairment review of the MSRs and recognizes impairment through a valuation account. In 2013 the Company reversed the $152,000 valuation allowance that was established in 2012 because the fair value exceeded carrying value at December 31, 2013. MSRs are a component of other assets on the Consolidated Balance Sheet.

Real Estate Owned

Real estate owned acquired in settlement of foreclosed loans is carried as a component of other assets at fair value minus estimated cost to sell. Prior to foreclosure, the estimated collectible value of the collateral is evaluated to determine whether a partial charge-off of the loan balance is necessary. After transfer to real estate owned, any subsequent write-downs are charged against other operating expenses. Direct costs incurred in the foreclosure process and subsequent holding costs incurred on such properties are recorded as expenses of current operations.

Advertising Costs

Advertising costs are expensed as the costs are incurred. Advertising expenses amounted to $155,000 and $157,000 for 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Income Taxes

The Company and the Bank file a consolidated federal income tax return. Deferred tax assets or liabilities are computed based on the difference between the financial statement and income tax basis of assets and liabilities using the enacted marginal tax rates. Deferred income tax expenses or benefits are based on the changes in the deferred tax asset or liability from period to period.

Pension Plan

The Bank has a noncontributory defined benefit pension plan that covers all eligible employees. Benefits are based upon years of service, the employee's compensation, and age at retirement. The Bank's contribution is actuarially determined and is intended to meet the current and projected obligations of the plan.

Trust Assets and Income

Assets held by the Bank in a fiduciary or agency capacity for its customers are not included in the accompanying financial statements, since such items are not assets of the Bank. In accordance with banking industry practice, Trust services income is recognized on the cash basis and is not materially different than if it was reported on the accrual basis.

Comprehensive Income

The Company is required to present comprehensive income and its components in a full set of general-purpose financial statements for all periods presented. Other comprehensive income (loss) is composed of net unrealized holding gains or losses on its available-for-sale investment and mortgage-backed securities portfolio, as well as changes in unrecognized pension cost.

Earnings Per Share

The Company currently maintains a simple capital structure; therefore, there are no dilutive effects on earnings per share. As such, earnings per share are calculated using the weighted-average number of shares outstanding for the periods.

The Company reviews its position quarterly and has asserted that at December 31, 2013 and 2012, the declines outlined in the above table represent temporary declines and the Company does not intend to sell and does not believe it will be required to sell these securities before recovery of their cost basis, which may be at maturity. There were 190 positions that were temporarily impaired at December 31, 2013. The Company has concluded that the unrealized losses disclosed above are not other than temporary but are the result of interest rate changes, sector credit ratings changes, or Company-specific ratings changes that are not expected to result in the noncollection of principal and interest during the period.

The amortized cost and fair value of debt securities at December 31, 2013, by contractual maturity, are shown below. Expected maturities will differ from contractual maturities because borrowers may have the right to call or prepay obligations with or without call or prepayment penalties.

Proceeds from the sales of available-for-sale securities during 2013 amounted to $35,819,000 resulting in gross gains and gross losses of $566,000 and $193,000, respectively. Proceeds from the sales of available-for-sale securities during 2012 amounted to $23,064,000 resulting in gross gains and gross losses of $433,000 and $92,000, respectively.

The Company sold a $258,000 held-to-maturity security during 2013 and a $101,000 held-to-maturity security during 2012. The held-to-maturities securities portfolio is not considered tainted because there was evidence that there was significant deterioration in the issuer's creditworthiness. The sales resulted in gains of $3,000 and $1,000 in 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Investment securities with fair values of $81,572,000 and $75,311,000 at December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively, were pledged to secure public deposits and other purposes as required by law.

Management has an established methodology to determine the adequacy of the allowance for loan losses that assesses the risks and losses inherent in the loan portfolio. For purposes of determining the allowance for loan losses, the Company has segmented certain loans in the portfolio by product type. Loans are segmented into the following pools: commercial, commercial real estate loans, residential real estate loans, and consumer loans. Historical loss percentages for each risk category are calculated and used as the basis for calculating allowance allocations. These historical loss percentages are calculated over a three-year period for all portfolio segments. Certain qualitative factors are then added to the historical allocation percentage to get the adjusted factor to be applied to nonclassified loans. The following qualitative factors are analyzed for each portfolio segment:

- Levels of and trends in delinquencies
- Trends in volume and terms
- Trends in credit quality ratings
- Changes in management and lending staff
- Economic trends
- Concentrations of credit

(Amounts in thousands except per share data)

These qualitative factors are reviewed each quarter and adjusted based upon relevant changes within the portfolio. During 2013, the qualitative factors for commercial loans decreased slightly and factors for residential real estate increased slightly. During 2012, the qualitative factors for commercial loans increased slightly. The factors for the other portfolio segments remained the same during both years.

The total allowance reflects management's estimate of loan losses inherent in the loan portfolio at the balance sheet date. The Company considers the allowance for loan losses of $2,505,000 and $2,458,000 adequate to cover loan losses inherent in the loan portfolio, at December 31, 2013 and 2012. The following tables present the balance in the allowance for loan losses and the recorded investment in loans by portfolio segment and based on impairment method as of December 31, 2013 and 2012:

Credit Quality Information

The Company's internally assigned grades are as follows:

Pass loans are protected by the current net worth and paying capacity of the obligor or by the value of the underlying collateral. There are five sub-grades within the Pass category to further distinguish the loan.

Special Mention loans are loans for which a potential weakness or risk exists, which could cause a more serious problem if not corrected.

(Amounts in thousands except per share data)

Substandard loans have a well-defined weakness based on objective evidence and are characterized by the distinct possibility that the Bank will sustain some loss if the deficiencies are not corrected.

Doubtful loans have all the weaknesses inherent in a Substandard asset. In addition, these weaknesses make collection or liquidation in full highly questionable and improbable, based on existing circumstances.

Loss loans are considered uncollectible, or of such value that continuance as an asset is not warranted.

The following tables represent credit exposures by internally assigned grades for the years ended December 31, 2013 and 2012. The grading analysis estimates the capability of the borrower to repay the contractual obligations of the loan agreements as scheduled or at all. The Company's internal credit risk grading system is based on experiences with similarly graded loans.

Impaired Loans

Management evaluates commercial loans and commercial real estate loans which are 90 days or more past due and considers them to be impaired. Loans rated Substandard or Doubtful are also evaluated for impairment. These loans are analyzed to determine whether it is probable that all amounts will not be collected according to the contractual terms of the loan agreement. If management determines that the value of the impaired loan is less than the recorded investment in the loan (net of previous charge-offs, deferred loan fees, or costs and unamortized premium or discount), impairment is recognized through an allowance estimate or a charge-off to the allowance.

The Company prescribes a recognition threshold and a measurement attribute for the financial statement recognition and measurement of a tax position taken or expected to be taken in a tax return. Benefits from tax positions should be recognized in the financial statements only when it is more likely than not that the tax position will be sustained upon examination by the appropriate taxing authority that would have full knowledge of all relevant information. A tax position that meets the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold is measured at the largest amount of benefit that is greater than 50 percent likely of being realized upon ultimate settlement. Tax positions that previously failed to meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold should be recognized in the first subsequent financial reporting period in which that threshold is met. Previously recognized tax positions that no longer meet the more-likely-than-not recognition threshold should be derecognized in the first subsequent financial reporting period in which that threshold is no longer met.

There is currently no liability for uncertain tax positions and no known unrecognized tax benefits. The Company recognizes, when applicable, interest and penalties related to unrecognized tax benefits in the provision for income taxes in the Consolidated Statement of Income. With few exceptions, the Company is no longer subject to U.S. federal or state income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 2010.

NOTE 8 - COMMITMENTS

In the normal course of business, the Company makes various commitments that are not reflected in the accompanying consolidated financial statements. These instruments involve, to varying degrees, elements of credit and interest rate risk in excess of the amount recognized in the Consolidated Balance Sheet. The Company's exposure to credit loss in the event of nonperformance by the other parties to the financial instruments is represented by the contractual amounts as disclosed. Losses, if any, are charged to the allowance for loan losses. The Company minimizes its exposure to credit loss under these commitments by subjecting them to credit approval, review procedures, and collateral requirements as deemed necessary.

The off-balance sheet commitments consisted of the following:

	2013	2012
Commitments to extend credit	$ 44,888	$ 32,413
Standby letters of credit	3,550	3,751

Commitments to extend credit are agreements to lend to a customer as long as there is no violation of any condition established in the loan agreement. These commitments are composed primarily of available commercial lines of credit and mortgage loan commitments. The Company uses the same credit policies in making loan commitments and conditional obligations as it does for on-balance sheet instruments. The Company evaluates each customer's creditworthiness on a case-by-case basis. The amount of collateral obtained, as deemed necessary, is based upon management's credit evaluation in compliance with the Company's lending policy guidelines. Customers use credit commitments to ensure funds will be available for working capital purposes, for capital expenditures, and to ensure access to funds at specified terms and conditions.

Standby letters of credit are conditional commitments issued by the Company to guarantee the performance of a customer to a third party. Performance letters of credit represent conditional commitments issued by the Company to guarantee the performance of a customer to a third party. These instruments are issued primarily to support bid- or performance-related contracts. The coverage period for these instruments is typically a one-year period with an annual renewal option subject to prior approval by management. Fees earned from the issuance of these letters are recognized over the coverage period. For secured letters of credit, the collateral is typically Company deposit instruments or customer business assets.

Plan Assets

The Bank's defined benefit pension plan weighted-average asset allocations at December 31 by asset category are as follows:

	2013		2012
Asset Category
Mutual funds	70.91	%	63.50	%

The Bank believes that the plan's risk and liquidity position are, in large part, a function of the asset class mix. The Bank desires to utilize a portfolio mix that results in a balanced investment strategy. The investment objective for the defined benefit pension plan is to maximize total return with tolerance for average to slightly above average risk. Asset allocation strongly favors mutual funds.

NOTE 11 - REGULATORY MATTERS

Cash and Due from Banks

The district Federal Reserve Bank requires the Bank to maintain certain average reserve balances. As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, the Bank had required reserves of $0 and $165,000, respectively.

Loans

Federal law prevents the Company from borrowing from the Bank unless the loans are secured by specific collateral. Further, such secured loans are limited in amount to 10 percent of the Bank's common stock and capital surplus.

Dividends

The Bank is subject to a dividend restriction that generally limits the amount of dividends that can be paid by a national bank. Prior approval of the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency ("OCC") is required if the total of all dividends declared by a national bank in any calendar year exceeds net profits, as defined for the year, combined with its retained net profits for the two preceding calendar years less any required transfers to surplus. Using this formula, the amount available for payment of dividends by the Bank in 2013, without approval of the OCC, is approximately $6,856,000 plus 2014 net profits retained up to the date of the dividend declaration.

Capital Requirements

Federal regulations require the Company and the Bank to maintain minimum amounts of capital. Specifically, each is required to maintain certain minimum dollar amounts and ratios of Total and Tier I capital to risk-weighted assets and of Tier I capital to average total assets.

In addition to the capital requirements, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act ("FDICIA") established five capital categories ranging from "well capitalized" to "critically undercapitalized." Should any institution fail to meet the requirements to be considered "adequately capitalized," it would become subject to a series of increasingly restrictive regulatory actions.

As of December 31, 2013 and 2012, the FDIC categorized the Bank as well capitalized under the regulatory framework for prompt corrective action. To be classified as a well capitalized financial institution, Total risk-based, Tier I risk-based, and Tier I leverage capital ratios must be at least 10 percent, 6 percent, and 5 percent, respectively.

NOTE 12 - FAIR VALUE MEASUREMENTS

The following disclosures show the hierarchal disclosure framework associated with the level of pricing observations utilized in measuring assets and liabilities at fair value. The three broad levels of pricing observations are as follows:

Level I: Quoted prices are available in active markets for identical assets or liabilities as of the reported date.

Level II: Pricing inputs are other than the quoted prices in active markets, which are either directly or indirectly observable as of the reported date. The nature of these assets and liabilities includes items for which quoted prices are available but traded less frequently and items that are fair-valued using other financial instruments, the parameters of which can be directly observed.

Level III: Valuations derived from valuation techniques in which one or more significant inputs or significant value drivers are unobservable.

This hierarchy requires the use of observable market data when available.

The following tables present the assets reported on the Consolidated Balance Sheet at their fair value as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, by level within the fair value hierarchy. Financial assets and liabilities are classified in their entirety based on the lowest level of input that is significant to the fair value measurement.

The following tables presents the assets measured on a nonrecurring basis on the Consolidated Balance Sheet at their fair value as of December 31, 2013 and 2012, by level within the fair value hierarchy. Impaired loans that are collateral dependent are written down to fair value through the establishment of specific reserves. Techniques used to value the collateral that secure the impaired loan include quoted market prices for identical assets classified as Level I inputs; and observable inputs, employed by certified appraisers, for similar assets classified as Level II inputs. In cases where valuation techniques included inputs that are unobservable and are based on estimates and assumptions developed by management based on the best information available under each circumstance, the asset valuation is classified as Level III inputs. The fair values consist of the loan balances of $1,780,000 and $127,000 less their valuation allowances of $0 and $0 at December 31, 2013 and 2012, respectively.

Other real estate owned ("OREO") is measured at fair value, less cost to sell at the date of foreclosure, establishing a new cost basis. Subsequent to foreclosure, valuations are periodically performed by management and the assets are carried at the lower of carrying amount or fair value, less cost to sell.

Mortgage servicing rights are accounted for under the amortization method and are adjusted to the lower of aggregate cost or estimated fair value as appropriate. Fair value is estimated by projecting and discounting future cash flows. Various assumptions including future cash flows, market discount rates, expected prepayment rates, servicing costs, and other factors are used in the valuation of mortgage servicing rights.

	December 31, 2013
	Level I	Level II	Level III	Total
Fair value measurements on nonrecurring basis:
Impaired loans	$ -	$ -	$ 1,780	$ 1,780
Other real estate owned	-	-	23	23
Total	$ -	$ -	$ 1,803	$ 1,803

	December 31, 2012

Other real estate owned	86	Appraisal of collateral (1), (3)
Mortgage servicing rights	584	Discounted cash flows	Discount rate	10.50% - 11.50%

(1) Fair value is generally determined through independent appraisals of the underlying collateral, which include various Level III inputs which are not identifiable.
(2) Appraisals may be adjusted by management for qualitative factors such as economic conditions, aging, and/or estimated liquidation expenses incurred when selling the collateral. The range and weighted average of appraisal adjustments and liquidation expenses are presented as a percentage of the appraisal.

Financial instruments are defined as cash, evidence of ownership interest in an entity, or a contract that creates an obligation or right to receive or deliver cash or another financial instrument from/to a second entity on potentially favorable or unfavorable terms.

NOTE 13 - FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (Continued)

Fair value is defined as the amount at which a financial instrument could be exchanged in a current transaction between willing parties other than in a forced or liquidation sale. If a quoted market price is available for a financial instrument, the estimated fair value would be calculated based upon the market price per trading unit of the instrument.

If no readily available market exists, the fair value estimates for financial instruments should be based upon management's judgment regarding current economic conditions, interest rate risk, expected cash flows, future estimated losses, and other factors as determined through various option pricing formulas. As many of these assumptions result from judgments made by management based upon estimates that are inherently uncertain, the resulting estimated fair values may not be indicative of the amount realizable in the sale of a particular financial instrument. In addition, changes in assumptions on which the estimated fair values are based may have a significant impact on the resulting estimated fair values.

As certain assets, such as deferred tax assets and premises and equipment, are not considered financial instruments, the estimated fair value of financial instruments would not represent the full value of the Company.

The Company employed simulation modeling in determining the estimated fair value of financial instruments for which quoted market prices were not available based upon the following assumptions:

Cash and Cash Equivalents, Loans Held for Sale, Regulatory Stock, Accrued Interest Receivable, and Accrued Interest Payable

The fair value is equal to the current carrying value.

Investment Securities

The fair market value of investment securities is equal to the available quoted market price. If no quoted market price is available, fair value is estimated using the quoted market price for similar securities. Fair values for certain corporate bonds were determined utilizing discounted cash flow models, due to the absence of a current market to provide reliable market quotes for the instruments.

Loans

Fair value is estimated by discounting future cash flows using current market inputs at which loans with similar terms and qualities would be made to borrowers of similar credit quality. Where quoted market prices were available, primarily for certain residential mortgage loans, such market rates were utilized as estimates for fair value.

Bank-Owned Life Insurance

The fair value is equal to the cash surrender value of the life insurance policies.

Mortgage Servicing Rights

The fair value for mortgage servicing rights is estimated by discounting contractual cash flows and adjusting for prepayment estimates. Discount rates are based upon rates generally charged for such loans with similar characteristics.

NOTE 13 - FAIR VALUE OF FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS (Continued)

Deposits and Other Borrowings

The fair values of certificates of deposit and other borrowed funds are based on the discounted value of contractual cash flows. The discount rates are estimated using rates currently offered for similar instruments with similar remaining maturities. Demand, savings, and money market deposit accounts are valued at the amount payable on demand as of year-end.

Commitments to Extend Credit and Commercial Letters of Credit

These financial instruments are generally not subject to sale, and estimated fair values are not readily available.

The carrying value, represented by the net deferred fee arising from the unrecognized commitment or letter of credit, and the fair value, determined by discounting the remaining contractual fee over the term of the commitment using fees currently charged to enter into similar agreements with similar credit risk, are not considered material for disclosure. The contractual amounts of unfunded commitments and letters of credit are presented in Note 8.

NOTE 14 - SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Management has reviewed events occurring through March 26, 2014, the date the financial statements were issued and no subsequent events occurred requiring accrual or disclosure.
